

Be part of the change you want to see in the world. Build a world fit for children.

Action orientated

The new GMC web site focuses on promoting campaigns advocating for child rights globally and regionally. A few of them are led directly by the GMC. Others are led by its members or coalitions committed to children. Overall, the site is a point of reference for all those willing to get actively engaged in promoting child rights.

Engage around the 10 imperatives of the Say Yes for Children

Action is organized around the 10 imperatives promoted as part of the Say Yes for Children Campaign. Under each of the 10 imperatives, you will find information of the selected campaigns, their objectives and activities proposed, and how to get engaged.

The most important campaigns

The site updates regularly the information on each campaign featured, and adds those we consider are most important globally. We receive information constantly from all over the world to allow you to get engaged where it is more relevant. Have we forgotten anything? Please let us know by sending a message to info@gmfc.org.

Key political processes

You will find updates on the most relevant international political processes and events affecting children globally. And our partnership with CRIN brings the most updated news to you on a daily basis.

Subscribe and join

A monthly newsletter will allow you to keep track of progress on global and regional campaigns and on international processes. Please do not forget to subscribe by clicking here .

Work in progress

We are translating this web site into French, Spanish and Catalan, and hopefully to more languages in the future. We will also be testing new features during the course of spring 2010. Apologies for the inconveniences this might create.

For suggestions and complaints, please contact us at info@gmfc.org.

Thanks,

The GMC Secretariat
